Your World

Your Communities

For more than a decade many of North America's most prominent independent schools have looked to Net Directories for innovative products to help them simplify record keeping, streamline communications, build alumni and parent communities, assist in fundraising campaigns and organize homecoming events.

NDI programs are designed exclusively for independent schools and offer the flexibility of design and cost to meet the needs and budgets of schools both large and small. Our web-based directories are robust, easy to use, password-protected and contain privacy features to ensure that both members and administrators are firmly in control of content.

Today 150 schools in North America and beyond are using our products to help them with green initiatives by replacing printed directories and newsletters with online versions. Many are using new modules to organize volunteer groups, maintain student medical records and establish timely mentor programs that allow alumni to assist other alumni with business and career opportunities.

If you want to improve your school's communication, record-keeping and community building efforts, then please visit our website to review our products, read some of our user comments and explore how we can help your school.
